

BUSINESS STRATEGY WORKSHOP

Adaptability is key in order for your company to find your way through any disruption and out the other side with your purpose intact. Whether you are poorly, fairly or well prepared to weather the storm, we'll help you develop a clear-cut business strategy to:

This workshop will help you to prioritize shifts you might need to make in response to current circumstances and develop ways to implement and test them. To do this we will work together to create:

- an emergent roadmap that outlines your prioritized pattern shifts along with tests, metrics and a set of built-in checkpoints to be sure you're heading in the right direction
- what we call "Try Tomorrows" or starting points that you can use to bring your roadmap to life for your business
- 90-day predictions - what to expect next, and how to prepare
